

Brandy John

Brandy John is President of the Ontario Council of Private Massage Therapy Colleges and President of the Canadian Council of Massage Therapy Schools. In addition, Brandy serves as a Board Member on the Canadian Massage Therapy Council for Accreditation and still finds time for a full time job as triOS & Eastern College Faculty Head.

Brandy has been a Massage Therapist for 22 years. During that time, she has been an active advocate in the profession. She has worked with many groups to further the vision of Massage Therapy such as the: CMTCA, CMTA, CCMTS, OCPMTC, CMTCF, CMTA RMTAO, McMaster University, several publishers and ORCID research to further the profession of Massage Therapy.

"I always knew that I wanted a career in healthcare being a 'science geek'," said Brandy. "My mom was the one that said that I should be a massage therapist or a teacher, as I had all of the qualities that would make me good at either of those professions. Of course, your mother is always right!"

After receiving her initial training at CTC in Burlington, Brandy returned as an alumni to teach advanced Massage Therapy courses. She now works as a demonstrating tutor and examiner in Acupuncture at McMaster University – Continuing Education - Acupuncture and Evidence Based Approach.

Brandy is currently a subject matter expert to various groups including the CMTO (having joint written the current acupuncture competencies and a reviewer for the interjurisdictional Competencies 2012 and OSCE advisory). She currently remains on the acupuncture advisory committee assisting in policy making.
